

Genuine Parts Company Releases 2022 Sustainability Report

Focuses on Improving Diversity, Equity and Inclusion, Reducing Carbon Emissions and Enhancing ESG Governance

ATLANTA, Oct. 6, 2022 /PRNewswire/ -- Genuine Parts Company (NYSE: GPC) announced today that it has published its 2022 Sustainability Report. The new report advances GPC's long-term sustainability strategy and expands its reporting and disclosure to reflect the company's global operations. During the past year, GPC has made significant progress integrating sustainability management practices across business operations and expanding sustainability programs to include more locations, communities and stakeholders.

"At GPC, we recognize the importance of operating sustainably across all our businesses and geographies with a long-term view of critical environmental, social and governance (ESG) issues," said Paul Donahue, chairman and chief executive officer. "Our 2022 Sustainability Report illustrates GPC's strong ESG strategy and a way forward that underscores our commitment to keeping the world moving. Thank you to our GPC teammates, partners and suppliers who work each and every day to exceed the needs of our customers and strengthen our communities, all while making the world a better place."
