NON-GAAP MEASURES: This presentation contains adjusted net income from continuing operations, adjusted diluted earnings per share from continuing operations, adjusted tax rate, adjusted gross profit, adjusted operating and non-operating expenses, net sales excluding divestitures, segment profit excluding divestitures, segment profit margin excluding divestitures, and free cash flow, which are financial measures that are not derived in accordance with United States generally accepted accounting principles ("GAAP"). The Company considers these non-GAAP measures useful to investors because they provide greater transparency into management's view and assessment of the Company's core operating performance. These measures are widely used by analysts, investors and competitors in our industry, although our calculation of the measure may not be comparable to similar measures disclosed by other companies, because not all companies and analysts calculate these measures in the same manner. The Company does not, nor does it suggest investors should, consider non-GAAP financial measures superior to, in isolation from, or as a substitute for, GAAP financial information. The Company has included reconciliations of this additional information to the most comparable GAAP measure in the appendix of this presentation.

Other Information

Appendix B

Comparable Sales: Comparable sales refer to period-over-period comparisons of our sales excluding the impact of acquisitions, divestitures and foreign currency. The Company considers this metric useful to investors because it provides greater transparency into management's view and assessment of the Company's core ongoing operations. This is a metric that is widely used by analysts, investors and competitors in our industry, although our calculation of the metric may not be comparable to similar measures disclosed by other companies, because not all companies and analysts calculate this metric in the same manner.

Daily Sales: Daily sales is a key metric that represents the amounts invoiced to the Company's customers each day. Daily sales do not represent GAAP-based sales because, among other things, invoices are not always generated at the same time goods and services are delivered to customers and the amounts do not include adjustments for estimates of returns, rebates or other forms of variable consideration. Management uses this metric to monitor demand trends at each of its subsidiaries throughout each month for the purposes of monitoring performance against forecasts and to make operational decisions. The Company considers this metric useful to investors because it provides greater transparency into management's view and assessment of the Company's core ongoing operations. The calculation of this metric may not be comparable to similar measures disclosed by other companies, because not all companies and analysts calculate this metric in the same manner.
